

What is up with our I.D. requirements?

Why do we ask for an I.D. every week?

We buy food from the Food Bank of Delaware, so we follow their rules. They require that we give the food only to people who can show evidence that they live in Delaware.

Why do we ask for an I.D. every week?

We are permitted to give our food to anyone who is –

- A Delaware resident and
- In need, according to Food Bank guidelines

You are not required to show proof of need, but you are required to show proof of Delaware residency for everyone in your household.

Why does everyone have to re-register EVERY January and EVERY July?

The income guidelines change, requiring that you recertify that you are eligible. Again, this is a Food Bank requirement.

Why won't you accept expired licenses, Medicare, passports, or Social Security as I.D.?

The purpose of the I.D. is to show current Delaware residency. An expired license doesn't show that you're a current resident. Medicare and Social Security cards, as well as your passport, are federal I.D.s, not Delaware.
