Sharing Our Faith: A Calling for All Believers

As followers of Christ, we carry a message of hope and salvation that the world desperately needs. Sharing our faith is not reserved for pastors, missionaries, or those with extroverted personalities. It's a call for every believer.

In Matthew 28:19, Jesus commands us to “go and make disciples of all nations.” This Great Commission isn't optional—it's a privilege. Sharing our faith is an act of love. It's about inviting others into the life-changing relationship we've found in Jesus.

You don't need to have all the answers or a perfect script. Sometimes, sharing your faith is as simple as telling your story—how Jesus changed your life. Other times, it's showing love through action: being kind, listening, and serving others in Jesus' name. Remember, it's not about being perfect; it's about being willing.

Pray for boldness. Ask God to give you opportunities to share the Gospel and the courage to speak when those moments come. Trust that He'll use your efforts, no matter how small, to make an eternal difference.

Let us embrace our calling to be light in a dark world. By sharing our faith, we not only fulfill our purpose, but we also become instruments of God's grace, bringing hope to those who need it most.

Are you ready to share the good news?
